EXCITING

Senatorial Contest in Kentucky Has Assumed a Sensational Hue.

Hunter's Friends Say the Governor Is Concerned
In Bribery Story.

Bradley Is Very Angry and Personal Altercations
May Occur.

Louisville, Ky., April 12.—A special to the Evening Post from Frankfort says: The senatorial situation is sensational in the extreme and rumors of such dangerous nature have followed so fast upon each other since Saturday, that the scene is almost kaleidoscopic. The latest rumor that has gained currency is that within the next forty-eight hours a constitutional resolution will be introduced in the house by the Hunter Republicans consoling and denouncing Governor Bradley in the most severe terms for taking part in the alleged bribery charges which have been brought against Dr. Hunter.

The latter's followers openly charge the Governor Bradley, as well as the silver dollar, with being the author of the instigation of bribery charges which are now being sifted by the Frankfort grand jury, and in this last move, all the hunter's voice got the better part of his judgment.

It will work his downfall. Rumor reaches the state that Governor Bradley's morning and the scene around the state house was sulphurous for a time.

The latter's friends vehemently deny that he has any connection with it and say at the same time that it is that Governor Bradley will at once go upon the floor of the house and make a speech that will be full of scathing锋利的 to end the session.

It is said that an effort will be made to dissuade Governor Bradley from this step, as it is feared that the grand jury might result from it, as the government is not prepared to meet words when angry in debate. Ex-

Congressman Wilson and E. T. Franks, the Hunter representatives who are implicated in the latter's order to alleged attempt at bribery were summoned before the grand jury this morning, on the recommendation of Attorney General Taylor, who said that he did not want to see the grand jury become a mere engine for persecution.

Representative W. A. Baird, a sound money Democrat from Davies county, was also served with a subpoena, and it was stated that he was to be questioned as to whether he had or had not received offered money by the Hunter managers.

The situation here is grave. The feelings are high and personal altercations are to be expected at any time.

There was a moment of surprise when the senate filed into the house for joint session. The redoubtable Jack Chin, who figured extensively in the scenes, was seated at the door while Capt. Thomas Tanner, who testified before the grand jury against Hunter and his lieutenants stood just behind him. The Republicans were nonplussed for a time, but as no offensive move was made the incident was soon forgotten. When the roll was called the hunter Republicans answered promptly to their names but the gold Democrats, hotting Republicans and free silver Democrats declined to answer thus breaking a quorum.

Representative Burnham of Madison county, a Hunter man, denounced the tactics of the opposition in round terms, and said that there were members of the general assembly on the floor, and only forty-five answered the continuation of what tactics, he said, was a disgrace to the state. A ballot was taken, which resulted in forty-four votes being cast for Hunter. No quorum was present, the general assembly adjourned.

VOORHEES' FUNERAL.

Body Shipped From Washington to His Indiana Home.

Washington, April 12.—The funeral services over the remains of the late ex-Senator Daniel W. Voorhees, of Indiana, were held at St. John's Episcopal church shortly after noon today. The church could not accommodate those who desired to pay their last tribute of respect to the dead senator. The members of the senate were present in a body and among the officers and senators were many prominent in official and social life. The honorary pall bearers were Senator Merrill of Vermont; Senator Turpie of Indiana; Senator Jones of Arkansas; ex-Senator Butler of South Carolina; Judge Lawrence Weldon, Hon. Richard J. Bright, of Indiana, and Senator Culver of Indiana.

The flowers were profuse, one of the most prominent floral pieces having been sent by his old associates in the state senate.

The Episcopal church was held at the old home of Senator Wilson, who was buried at the Chesapeake & Ohio at noon tomorrow, and the remains will be in state at the capital for twenty-four hours. Thence they will be taken on Thursday to Terre Haute, the old home of the senator, for final interment on Friday.

THE GRAND DUKE SUICIDED.

Cannes, April 12.—The fact has come public that the grand duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, whose death here was announced as having occurred at an early hour on Saturday, Saturday, committed suicide. It had been stated that his death was due to aneurism of the heart. The grand duke, it appears, had been suffering from a disease that had confined him to his bed for some time. During the absence of the medical attendants, while the grand duke left his villa and threw himself from the parapet of a bridge near the house. He was found a few minutes later, still living, but so injured that he died in half an hour.

STEEL WORKERS RESUME.

Chicago, April 12.—The steel workers at South Chicago resumed operations this morning. About 100 rail finishers, whose striking involved 2500 men, were not allowed to return. The finishers were not upheld in their demands of their union and as a result their places were filled, and the 2400 men in other departments returned to their labor and the mills are now in full blast.

IS ADVERTISING DULUTH.

Bridge Fight May Become a National Issue.

Washington, April 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—A Washington dispatch to the New York Tribune today says: A ten years' fight between Duluth, Superior and Superior, Wis., has been brought to a head by the proposal to build a bridge. Just now there is a race each calling itself a city, are distinct and separate. Between them flows a little arm of Lake Superior, called by the Indians the St. Louis river. It is as famous in the annals of the Northwest as was the Rubicon in the days of Caesar. Duluth and Superior are known as Superior, but in the future, when the waters of the river are spanned by a bridge, Superior will be the sunburst of Duluth. This is the hope of the Duluth people, and the Superior people stand on the shore of the division, holding their heads high in the face of all encroaching rivals. The bill authorizing the bridge was passed in the last congress, but nothing can be done because of changes made in the charter. The proposal for the bridge furnished by the Pennsylvania Steel men, is lying ready on the site, but the Superior stand guard with objections and the bridge is literally suspended in mid-air.

PINE CITY VICTORIOUS.

The Limited Train Must Now
Stop There.

Washington, April 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The supreme court today affirmed the decision of the Minnesota court in their case of Morris L. Gladson against the state of Minnesota. Gladson was an engineer on the Paul and Duluth road and was convicted of failing to stop his train at Pine City in accordance with the law.

The decision today affirms the constitutionality of the state statute requiring all trains to stop a sufficient length of time to allow passengers to get on or off. The defense was that the train was a limited one, running between St. Paul and Duluth and West Superior. This contention was not allowed.

FEW PLUMS EXPECTED.

Minnesota May Get a Few Offices This Week.

Washington, April 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Minnesota delegation hopes to secure recognition from President McKinley within the next few days. Some of the members are in the city and the state will get a few offices fairly promptly during the present week. The sixth session of the legislature will only be called this week and this prize has been promised to Minnesota. Ex-Congressman Wilson and his wife will go to St. Paul. Paul and Duluth and West Superior. This contention was not allowed.

It is still a question whether ex-Congressman Kiefer will be made commissary of immigration. Col. Kiefer still believes that his bill will be passed. There are a few other offices that may be given to Minnesota by this administration, but the number will be no means large.

THE TURKISH ADVANCE.

Constantinople, April 11.—Delayed in transacting business, the Turkish government informed the representatives of the foreign embassies on Saturday, that, in consequence of the Greek invasion of Macedonia, Edhem Pasha, the Turkish commander-in-chief, was marching on the Greek frontier at Larissa. According to authorities in Larissa, the Turkish army has not yet started, but that at the moment Edhem Pasha's orders to advance were countermanded. Nevertheless, the Turkish government still seems to have decided to proceed to seize and hold Larissa until the Greeks shall have evacuated the island of Crete.

It is pointed out that Krania, the town in the hands of the Greeks, is the scene of the present invasion, and an important strategic position. The Turkish commandant of Larissa, according to his communication with the Greeks, was to be evacuated by the Greeks.

The insurgents, the special dispatch says, had entered the town and had captured the town of Krania. Further, they pursued the Turks close to Cipria, which is two hours' distance from Greece.

Throughout the operations which have hitherto been successful for the insurgents, the latter lost only three chiefs and four thousand men, according to the special dispatch.

It is reported that the Turkish front detachment yesterday fired on and killed a Greek private and a peasant who were carrying dispatches to Calicovli.

THE GARDINIER ESCAPES.

London, April 12.—A special dispatch from Trikala says that the Turkish garrison of Battine, numbering about 100 men, which was besieged by the Greeks, has been relieved by the Greeks, with a loss of thirty men killed. It is added that the fight was stubborn. It is said at the front that the Turks were able to issue from the barracks.

DECLINED

Wheat Was Weaker Again
Today and the Price
Went Down.

The Foreign Markets Failed to Respond to Yesterday's Advance Here.

Receipts Were Large, But Much Wheat Worked
For May Export.

The foreign markets did not respond with advances equal to those made in American markets yesterday. The consequence was that much of the wheat bought out by the mills yesterday was for sales or declines of 10c to 15c per bushel. The Northwest receipts were large, 50 cars against 45 last year. The advance at Liverpool was 5d, according to board cables, but some private cables made it 1d. Advices in regard to the crop in both France and Russia were unfavorable.

Before 12 o'clock New York sales for export were reported to comprised 25 bushels of wheat for May shipment. The United Kingdom, Minneapolis millers report a great business done in flour yesterday, with 100,000 bushels shipped, and 150,000, and it is said nearly all went to home trade. Later 50,000 bushels were reported to have been shipped, making the total 150,000 bushels of wheat for May export. The decline referred to occurred in the foreign markets. The decline in foreign markets was 10c to 15c per bushel.

Trading was dull on the Duluth board. May wheat opened at 85c, rose to 86c, then recovered to 88c but again sold off to 87c before 11 o'clock. The market ruled firm after 12 o'clock, and closed at 88c, up to 89c to 89 1/2c. The close was firm with buyers in. The close of 89c for the day. The mills bought 100 bushels of wheat at 88c over May, for round lots, and the elevators took 15 cars at 88c under May, for round lots.

The Court of Appeals.

Deputy Clerk Pressnell of the United States court has received a notice from Clerk Jordan of the United States court of appeals that will be interested to attorneys. It states that there is a regular assignment of cases at the May term this year, which commences at St. Paul on the first Monday in May, and that no arguments will be heard except in cases in which an appeal has been allowed from an injunction order, under section 10 of the act of the act of March 2, 1890, as amended by the act of 18, 1895. Such cases will be heard the first week in May, upon notice being posted on the court house before April 24. Cases of special importance, where there are good reasons for delay, admission may be advanced by the court and adjourned for hearing during the first week in May. The motion and showing for such hearing must be made not later than April 24. The regular assignment of cases will be made the first Monday in September.

Parker Was Held.

The hearing of George Parker, the engineer of a Terrey fire, charged with assaulting Samuel H. Irvin, with an iron bar in a toilet room of the hotel, which, it is said, was completed in the municipal building this morning. The complainant, who failed to appear yesterday, and for whom a diligent search was made, turned up this morning with the explanation that he had been in attendance in the superior court. Parker was held on his own recognizance to await the action of the grand jury.

The Historical Society.

At the High School last evening a meeting of the Historical Society of St. Louis county was held. Professor Wilson discussed the "Mineralogy of Gold," which he has been studying for some time. He described the difference between beds and veins, and also talked on iron ore in a general way. An informal discussion followed. Another "Quartz" will be held next Monday, and "Quartz" will be discussed.

Lakesiders Have a Grievance Against the Board of Public Works.

Force Main Pipe is Being Unloaded on the Street Car Tracks.

This Delays Cars and Force May Soon Be Resorted to.

The pipe for the force main is being unloaded on one of the tracks of the street railway company, from Sixteenth avenue east westward. This delays the running of cars, and Lakeside people are incensed therat. Inasmuch as the work of excavating the trench has not yet begun, and it is uncertain when it will be, the prospect for a long continuance of the nuisance seems good. It is said that a volunteer force is being organized to clean up the board of public works, if it would seem that there does not seem to be any pipe in the wide expanse but that pipe except right on the car tracks.

There is, however, a prospect of relief in sight. It is understood that the members who reside at Lakeside take the matter up this afternoon with a view of settling on some other place to be used for the pipe until the trench is ready. It is said that the members this morning, on an incoming car, which this member was riding, passed a set of rest outlays, while sidetracked in the works, that were of such a nature that on arriving in town, the paint on the outside of the car was observed to be blistered. The member was heard to remark, as he alighted at the city hall, that it had started out to be pretty to blame. From statements made by a number of the members of the board of public works, it would seem that there does not seem to be any pipe in the wide expanse but that pipe except right on the car tracks.

Senate Committee Now Hard at Work on the Dingey Bill.

Fight Between Eastern and Western Senators on Hides and Wool.

Indications That Lumber Duty May Be Cut to One Dollar.

Washington, April 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The senate committee on finance is undoubtedly making many changes in the Dingey bill, but what they are not known to any degree of certainty. The Republicans are not very secret as to their work. Several schedules remain to be taken up, and it will probably be May before the bill is ready for reporting. That the duties will average much lower than the Dingey bill is a certainty. In the house, there is not the least doubt. In some respects they will be quite a good deal higher, to meet the demands of certain senators who insist that the particular interests of their states must be fully looked after before they will give their support to the bill. The fight on the floor of the house between Eastern and Western senators on such things as hides and wool. The Eastern senators are in agreement with the Western, and the Western does not want a tariff on hides and will not consent to it. Their factories desire the same rate of duty as low as possible, and their representatives will see that the demand of the wool-growing states for an increase by the senate over the Dingey rate is not heard. The Western senators in order to be consistent, might if left to themselves, consent to a greater advance on wool than tariff rates of the bill, but the plain truth is that they do not. A tariff on hides would mean political defeat for both Hoar and Lodge and quite a number of the Massachusetts members of the house. For this reason Hoar and Lodge will demand that there be no tariff on hides and advance on wool, and they will not give up. Republicans will stand with them to hold up the bill until their wishes are complied with, and Senator Warren, of Boston, and other Westerners will be forced to submit. One of the two new members are taken care of Minnesota will be very well off in the matter of committee assignments.

IN THE DAKOTAS.

NORTH DAKOTA.

Cogswell sportsmen are preparing for the season in the hills west of Fort Pierre. The "varmints" are few of them. A couple of fox hunting parties will be prominent in some quarters. While the friends of the $2 duty won quite a pronounced victory in the ways and means committee, I am inclined to believe, from all the heat that was in the Dingey bill, that it will carry, but $1 duty. Everything here, nearly, points to disappointment. The court is ready for the trial of the two attorneys present, of court had adjourned, and that the reason of the absence of the attorneys.

CORRUPT PUBLIC MEN.

In a recent magazine article, "Has the Senate Degenerated?" which has attracted considerable attention, Senator Hoar of Massachusetts referred to the reader to his speech in the house of representatives on Aug. 9, 1856, for proof of his contention that public life in this country has never been more corrupt, nor criticism of public men more malicious and virulent, than during the sixteen years following the first inauguration of George Washington. The Springfield Republican has examined that speech and, without apologies for its ancestors, or anybody else, states the facts of the eight cases of rascality which Mr. Hoar saw fit to relate to the house and now calls public attention to anew:

1. One of the most famous generals of the revolutionary war, while he was quartermaster general under Washington's presidency, was in partnership with a firm for the purpose of selling quartermaster's stores to the government and making a profit, corresponding all the while with his partner in cipher.

2. Washington's attorney general and secretary of state, Edmund Randolph, of Virginia, while holding the latter office, received money from France as a bribe to thwart the foreign policy of the administration. (Moncure Conway's life of Randolph, published since Mr. Hoar's speech in 1856, attempts to refute these charges.)

3. Another cabinet officer of Washington, Alexander Hamilton, being charged with a corrupt official relation with a citizen, cleared himself by acknowledging a profligate relation with the citizen's wife.

4. Still another cabinet officer of Washington wrote a letter, which Mr. Hoar said was in existence in Massachusetts, wherein he confessed to Washington an act of personal dishonesty "compared to which the crime charged upon Belknap is as the act of an archangel."

5. Aaron Burr, a villain and afterward a traitor, was supported for president against Jefferson through thirty-seven ballottings by the Federalists in the house of representatives.

6. The "Yazoo claim"—proving that every man of the majority of the Georgia house of representatives and a large number of the senate had been bribed by money or lands. The statute thus forced through was afterward repealed and the public records of the scandal were burned in the presence of the legislature, the infamous law being referred to in the repealing act as an "unconstitutional, vile and fraudulent transaction."

7. Under Jefferson's presidency his own postmaster general headed a corrupt lobby which tried to get a confirmation of the fraudulent Yazoo grant through congress. It was said that seventy congressmen and senators were bribed to pass the bill, but no proof of it exists.

8. President John Adams nominated for a high military office an "unworthy son-in-law of his own who had been detected in some breach of trust." The nomination was so unworthy that Adams' secretary of war lobbied at the doors of the senate chamber to defeat his confirmation.

To show that criticism of public men by scholars and cultured folk generally was carried to a greater extreme in those days than now, Mr. Hoar recalled a meeting of the Dartmouth college Phi Beta Kappa society in 1835, when a Mr. Buckland recited a poem upon the degradation of his country in the fifteenth year of its constitutional existence. The poet first conjured up the shade of the mighty Washington on the banks of the Potomac:

"His warm cheek glowed, and flashed his angry eyes."

From his brow the laurel wreath had unfolded,

And threw the withering boughs to the earth.

All this, of course, because things were so rotten in the state which he had done so much to found. Of Jefferson, then president, the Dartmouth poet wrote, in a passage containing some lines too gross to be borne at the present day:

"Cimmerian goblins brooded o'er the house, a wild protector rose to power."

Defensive schemes distended whose plodding Whose philosophic robe debaucheries

RAT PORTAGE BOOMING

The Rush to the Gold Fields Makes the Little Town a Lively Place.

The Travel Is Immense and Sleeping Rooms Are at a Decided Premium.

Some of the Duluth Men Who Are on Hand In Search of Fortune.

Rat Portage, Ont., April 10.—(Special to The Herald)—Here I am, in the realm of her Britannic majesty. Instead of taking the gol' cure, I am rapidly acquiring a raging gold fever. While these streets are not paved with the yellow metal, the atmosphere along the pavements, in the market place and around the hotels, has decidedly an auriferous tinge. Yea, more, a gold hoarder's curse has been discovered within the very citizens, and a big sawmill and starch yard in the suburbs will be moved to a new location so that a vein of gold-bearing rock, until recently concealed under pine barks and sanddust, may be properly developed.

I am pleased with this picturesque little metropolis at the head of navigation on Ontario's inland sea. Not only has Rat Portage a fine, well-constructed harbor, but it is also a neat, attractive place, with a population estimated all the way from 22,000 to 25,000. The streets are a pleasing feature, and modern conveniences are general. Structures of light, Milwaukee-colored brick predominate, and business places have a fresh, well-kept appearance. There is a great variety of whiskers, and physiognomies, and accent of voices cause me to believe that the sons of St. George and Clan have come here to flourish like a green bay tree.

Through the courtesy of the office of Robert K. Farrel, traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific, I was provided with such trustworthy information required, together with maps and much valuable information from the agents, brokers, and accommodating attaches of his office.

The Canadian Pacific, by the way, means to get all the passengers to take steamer, rather than rail, to Rat Portage.

With the bright sun, the rugged hills rearing aloft their bold heads and from whose heights come the voices of the bear, the fragrant breaths of resinous pines, the charming waters at their feet—with all this and the many possibilities that remain, the future of this larger metropolis, the prettiest city of that larger inland sea, I am compelled to feel very much at home.

It is true that the politicians are around the Hotel St. Louis, but I can mingle with the prospectors, miners and promoters in the crowded corridors of several popular houses that border the harbor. For many miles in every direction I am summoned from dreamland at early morn by the roar of the British engine. I have heard the fainting of the foghorn when I stretch my limbs in sweet repose, but the snap-slap of the beaver's tail aids materially in winding me up.

EVERY ONE SMILING.

Gloom seems to be at a discount here, and that does my heart good. The bushy moustache, so much a sign of ill-fortune, is not to be seen. I am summoned from dreamland at early morn by the roar of the British engine. I have heard the fainting of the foghorn when I stretch my limbs in sweet repose, but the snap-slap of the beaver's tail aids materially in winding me up.

What to do with the crowds has been a serious problem. Despite the large amount of building in progress, there is not room enough to go around. For every job there is a dozen applicants. Large numbers of the arrivals are common laborers and skilled mechanics, miners and prospectors having kept in touch by the deep sea, and on the rail road track on the Dakota side were under water, so a train was made up, a transfer effected and on we went across the prairies to the west, and there the made the eye ache. Drifts of water-covered fields, black patches of plowed ground here and there, and a dark sky were the only features of the scene.

At Pembina, Uncle Sam's customs office performed a few hasty duties, and then, in a few hours, the border was crossed and the Union Jack floated in proud authority. At Emerson, a little while later, the St. George made a perfumed examination of our baggage, presumably in search of the Dingley bill and then, after a ride of sixty miles, at 5:30 p. m. the train stores were burglarized the first of the week. In deprivations seem to have ceased. The occurrences are rather peculiar for the wild West features applied to typical Western mining camps. Mine Center, later on, undoubtedly will dislodge Rat Portage, several hundred persons in that respect.

John Campion, a switchman, well and favorably known in Duluth and Superior, was shot a short time ago and was discovered in the house of the residence of a prominent citizen, trying on an overcoat that did not belong to him. Some Canadian justice gave him one year in the gaol at Toronto. His American friends here blame whisky for the result, and firmly believe that Campion was innocent of any foul play. He is a Canadian law, however, makes it burglar to even lift a man's door latch after midnight.

For the benefit of the many Duluthians who have expressed a desire to visit the gold fields, I will say that this is the season between hay and grass, so to speak. The ice on the lakes is broken up, the ice on the lakes is dangerous and flooded with water, and the streams are not yet in condition for canoeing. Roads are bad, and it will be some days before even the most adventurous miners can locate can be reached by them. Unless a man has some special reason for coming now, he had better wait until navigation opens—probably not earlier than May 1.

The route via Winnipeg probably will be too long and expensive for Duluthians, but via the Canadian Pacific will have a rate of $10 from Duluth to Fort Frances, via Port Arthur and Rat Portage. The Lake of the Woods fairly abounds in miners, and some caravans and contraband ones will run this season. Later on, especially for those going to the Seine River country, the Tonawanda lake will be doubly well prove cheap and popular. For those wishing to visit the Manitou Lake and Lake of the Woods, however, this is an excellent outfitting place, and rail and road facilities. Prominent mining men have headquarters here, and supplies cost about the same as in Duluth.

As to the labor situation here, Messrs. Charlton and Chaloner of the Rat Portage Employment Bureau express themselves as follows:

"Laborers and mechanics just now, at least, have small excuse to come here, as there are 100 men for every job. Aside from miners, drivers, bums and hoboes, there are any number of miners, particularly from Sub Curly. Those who seek employment get $1.50 a day and board, or $2.25 a day and board.

How much will you take for it?" "It will cost you just $500," was the reply.

"I've only got $50," answered Martin.

"Oh, well, I won't pull a deal for $50," was "Boston" O'Brien's famous reply. "Hand over your dough."

This transfer was made, but Martin soon found out that he had been played for a sucker. Later on he attempted to take satisfaction out of O'Brien by force.

SOME NEW WRINKLES.

National Guard Inspection Rules Somewhat Changed.

Concerning the inspection of the state militia, which is soon to be held, the following order has been issued: "The annual and subsequent exercises will be made on the basis of the numbers of men actually present at inspection. The new law requires that in order to be inspected, a man must be a member of the company at least thirty days before the date of inspection, and that he must have attended the average of four drills a month for the past twelve months. We have no objection, however, to be selected for inspection, and the next inspection goes. Another new idea is that the various companies will execute a program which will be furnished the company commanders.

WAS NOT UNDER COVER.

Marble and the Mountain Iron Investigation.

E. N. Marston, ex-registrar of the Duluth bar office, who is evidence the Mountain Iron investigation committee reported it was impossible to present, said he was not invited to be present and give any testimony, says the St. Paul Globe. After the committee voted to remove Chicago, says the investigator committee has done him a great injustice by giving him no chance to review the matter of appearing before them. He had, indeed, gone cheerfully, he says, if he had been invited.

"The wording of the report of the Mountain Iron committee," says Mr. Marston, "is rather daning, and seems to convey the impression that the Lord's supper was an imitation, represented by tableaux, to be written by Miss Ruth Scott, Miss Jennie Fawcett and Miss Ethel Quigley. Hale Horton was made nothing but a class prophet and Miss Wallace class historian."

St. Paul's Church Services.

At St. Paul's Episcopal church tomorrow, Maundy Thursday, evening, there will be a communion service at 7:30 o'clock and an address descriptive of the institution of the Lord's supper. On Good Friday, there will be a service at 10 o'clock with an address on "The Crucifixion."

On Saturday, there will be services at 10 a.m. Services were held at 4:15 p.m. this afternoon, with an address on "Gethsemane."

H. C. Osterhout, against whose appointment as meat inspector by the board of health a protest was made on account of his alleged lack of experience was judged by the council by a number of meat dealers, by reason of which action his appointment was delayed, says that he has been engaged in the meat business for two years and has handled all kinds of meat. He intimates that a personal complaint against two certain dealers made by him to the health department was the cause of the opposition to him.

From 1854 to 1852 I was employed nearly all the time in my father's meat market," said Mr. Osterhout, "with the exception of a few months when I was in the army. Afterwards I held a position in the meat and cattle business in Nebraska for six years. If I am appointed to this position again, I will make the same time, and it seems to me that they might have set me right now."

BRIDGE

Heavy Work Completed and a Flag Hoisted Over the Draw Yesterday.

Big Draw Will be Swung For the First Time Next Week.

Superior Approach is Under Way—Will Probably Be Opened May 1.

The heavy work was completed on the Duluth-Superior bridge yesterday and a flag was hoisted on the tower of the big draw. Only the finishing work now remains to be completed on the bridge proper. The machinery and motors for the operation of the draw are being put in place and the engineers and others to be employed in the operation of the bridge have been employed and are in readiness to assume their duties as soon as the structure is open to traffic. Tomorrow the work of taking the lumber out from under the draw will be commenced, and it will be swinging for the first time probably not more than a week Wednesday. The swinging, which is to be operated by electricity, is second to none in the world in point of construction and is the first in existence.

The work on the approach to the Duluth side is well advanced, one side having been finished and the street cantricks laid. The other side will be completed before May 1. The work preliminary to the construction of the West Superior approach is also well advanced, the right way for the street that is to be opened to the bridge traffic obtained, and it is expected that the work of building it will begin in a short time. Another advantage will be secured much time is complete, and it is believed that it will be advanced sufficiently to permit the opening of the bridge to the public about May 1.

WILL BEGIN SOON.

Work of Digging Force Main Trench Will Commence.

The work of excavating the force main trench will be begun at Lakewood the latter part of this week or next. About 200 men will be put at work at this point. It is hoped to begin excavating on the west side of Lester street, the first for the main line, which is being made by Mr. Burke of Superior. Nothing will be done until after the bridge is open, and the trench open for a great length of time, owing to the danger of caving in.

The board of public works sent a communication to Mr. Burke today asking when he could begin making deliveries.

HAS HAD EXPERIENCE.

ARE NOT SATISFIED.

Mill Workers Are Still Afraid of a Reduction.

Until mills have actually started the season's saving and the schedule of wages has been fixed, millworkers will not be satisfied that an attempt is not to be made to cut them 10 per cent, notwithstanding the assertions of mill owners that last year's schedule will prevail this season. The millworkers are rapidly recruited, and by May 1 it is expected that it will be possessed of sufficient strength to make a determined resistance to a reduction of wages among any of its mill employees. In addition to some mill owners that reductions have been declared in a number of cases, it has been done only for the purpose of saving incomes that existed. The men claim that these changes are simply made to feelers, and are merely necessary to the general plan of being prepared and that will be announced later. It is their intention to resist any cut, no matter how trivial it may appear to be, and it is referred to several characters in history, who have been in later years found to be much different men than they have been in old histories. Henry VIII. of England, for instance, who had many good qualities, and Katherine and Anne Boleyn brought much of their trouble on themselves.

BRICKS

Ten More Were Brought Down From the Foley
Mine Today.

The Two Men Who Came Down Had Several Narrow Escapes.

They Fell Into Swollen Rivers and Broke Through Rotten Ice.

Ten more gold bricks from the Foley mine on the Seine river were placed on exhibition in a show case at the St. Louis hotel this afternoon, and during all the time they were to be seen they were visited by an excited stream of people. The gold is the result of sixteen days' run of the mill at the Foley mine. It weighs thirty-three pounds and is worth about $5500.

Piled up in a dull yellow heap on the office counter at the St. Louis, it presents a very attractive appearance. Gold has an attraction peculiar to its own, and many a dull eye sparkles as it rests upon the pile of gold bricks at the St. Louis. Surmounting the heap is a placard headed "For the benefit of the doubtless Thomases."

J. G. Foley, the proprietor of the Foley mine, said today that his reports from the mine were not satisfactory, and that the mill will continue steadily, and that the Foley will continue to ship gold bricks until every person that has any doubts acknowledges that it is the greatest gold field on earth, and they will not stop even then.

The bricks were brought in by Jack Everett and William Cassidy, who are employed at the Foley mine. They carried the gold in a pack sack across their shoulders, and several narrow waistbands, lost in the bushes and gold occurred. Jack Everett had an especially close call while crossing the Rive river. The river was swollen and the current was swift. Everett, who at that time was carrying the pack sack containing the gold, started to cross the river on a log when he fell off into the water. His clothes and the gold were washed down and he at once sank like a stone.

Cassidy, who had not yet started across when Everett fell, started after him. The current was so strong it swept rapidly down the stream, when he came to the surface, and Cassidy assumed considerable risk when he went to his rescue. Finally, however, he managed to get hold of Everett's coat collar, and haul'd him out on the bank, where he was quickly recovered.

Again, while the two were making the ice of Johnson Lake bath and broke through the ice and went in almost up to their necks.

Several other narrow escapes helped to round out the uncomfortable features of the trip. Between Crane and the mining house, and Johnson's, they met four or five men, looking men who stopped them with a list of questions about themselves and the Rainy Lake company, and during the short interview the two kept their hands on their guns, ready to shoot. None occurred, however, and the men arrived at Tower safely last night.

The gold bricks will be at the American Exchange bank until 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, where they may be seen by the curious who did not see them at the St. Louis.

PRESBYTERIAN UNITY.

Clergymen of That Church
Strive to Accomplish It.

Chicago, April 15.—Many distinguished Presbyterian ministers are in session in Chicago today and tomorrow they consider methods of bringing the various Presbyterian church organizations of the world into closer harmony. These men are members of the Western section of the executive board of the conference of reformed churches throughout the world holding the Presbyterian system. The United States and Canada and representative variety of Presbyterian bodies. Their sessions will not be open to the public.

The Western section of the conference of Presbyterians, Rev. William Caven, D.D., chairman of Knox college, Toronto, the chairman, Rev. W. H. Roberts, D.D., clerk of the general assembly of Presbyterians, is an American secretary. The executive commission will try to carry out the plans laid down by the general Presbyterians which met in Glasgow last June, with delegates from all parts of the world.

The object of this world-wide alliance is to unify the different branches of Presbyterians as much as possible. There is no attempt to interfere with the complete autonomy of each body. The judicial and administrative work of each is distinct. Efforts are being made to have the various committees co-operate in the same and form a mission board. Some special work and other foreign features of religious work that are common to all of them.

FATHER BERESFORD DEAD.
Reading, Pa., April 15.—Father Philip Beresford, rector of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic parish, was found dead in his study at 12:30 this morning. The cause of death was a heart attack.

LAYTON BEAT DOYLE.
Hot Springs, Ark., April 15.—Billy Layton and William Doyle of Chicago, the agents of the Western Electric Co., for a sum of $300. The contest was to be fifteen rounds, but Layton put his man out in the third with a swing on the jaw. Both men were in good condition and did heavy fighting, but Layton's science won.

OFFICIALS DIFFER.

Washington's Flood Reports
Are Very Far Apart.

Washington, April 15.—The news that came to the department of the Western Mississippi Valley today was conflicting. Below Vicksburg the conditions appear to differ on each side of the river. From the army office in Mississippi comes a most alarming statement of the number of people suffering from the flood. The number of men in Louisiana counsels against too liberal assistance as likely to lead to bad labor conditions. The first dispatch reads as follows:

"Vicksburg, Miss., April 15.—Over nine-tenths of Washington, Issaquena, Sharkey, Sunflower and considerable of Yazoo and Wards counties are over flooded. About 60,000 people are now in flood stock also suffering severely in eastern half of this territory where distress is becoming acute. Can only be reached by boat up Yazoo and Sunflower rivers from Vicksburg, start for Washington unless otherwise ordered."

EMBEZZLER CONVICTED.
Milwaukee, April 15.—Captain Daniel Haines, formerly claim agent of the St. Louis Southwestern railway, who has been on trial here several days for embezzling $30,000 of the company's money, was convicted today.

RISING

But Three Inches Between Omaha and the Swollen Missouri.

Damage There If Rise Continues Will Be Frightful to Contemplate.

Lower Mississippi Region Is Still in the Gravest
Sort of Peril.

Omaha, April 15.—A rise of three inches in the river and a strong wind from the south may complete the work commenced early in the week by the Missouri. The flooded district in North and East Omaha is still a waste of tumbling yellow waves, driven ceaselessly against the hastily-built dykes that yesterday checked their spread. The demolition of these dykes will turn the flood loose on the permanent embankments that hold back Cut Off lake, and then the destruction may be looked for. Cut Off lake raised more than a foot last night. It has established communication with the river, and is now seeking a small stream over what was the upper end of the lake in the time when it was still part of the river. The work to be done will affect an inundated area to relieve the dykes at the lower end and prevent the ultimate transfer of several thousand acres of Nebraska into the sea.

The stream from the lake to the river runs west of the Columbia distillery and east of the Carter White Lead Works. It flows through a narrow approach to the East Omaha bridge over the Missouri river. The wind is breaking the river through the dykes into Florence lake, and the water is flowing through naturally, and the course from Florence lake to Cut Off lake is a raging torrent. The houses surrounded by water are still standing, but many are being slowly undermined and must soon fail. There is little change in the situation down town. The streets are being raised and strengthened, and will be safe when the water subsides.

While the train of President Spellman of the Pontchartrain board was answering a call for help from Hennepin City, New Orleans, the coach was struck by lightning and the platform damaged, but no other damage resulted, even the levee turning out all right.

AT NEW ORLEANS.

Mississippi Has Beaten All Previous Records.

New Orleans, April 15.—The river is heating its own record right along and is high enough to frighten the stoutest heart, but there has not been seen a single surrender, nor is there a single break in the levee line in Louisiana.

Bayou La Fourche is still the weakest point, and the ninth and fifth river districts are garded the danger spots. These sections are now wrestling with the flood wave.

The St. Joseph has experienced a rise of half a foot in two days. It can stand two feet, but that figure may be exceeded at many points, and then it may be difficult to hold the line. The levee is still all the way to New Orleans, and half way down to the gulf, are being raised and strengthened, and will be safe when the water subsides.

While the train of President Spellman of the Pontchartrain board was answering a call for help from Hennepin City, New Orleans, the coach was struck by lightning and the platform damaged, but no other damage resulted, even the levee turning out all right.

AT KANSAS CITY.

Kansas City, Mo., April 15.—The river has risen three inches since yesterday, marking three inches above the dammed line, and is still coming up slowly. The water is being washed away from the levee, and the river therefore still rising slowly.

A steady current is set in through Cut Off lake, and, after being checked by the river, is now flowing against the dykes at the lake's lower end. The east shore of the lake is gradually giving away under the weight of the waves. This adds to the water.

SITUATION AT LEAVENWORTH.

Leavenworth, April 15.—The Mississippi is ten inches above the river line yesterday. The water is still coming up slowly.

BULLISH

Everything Favorable to a Rise in Wheat and It Sold Upward.

Cables Were Higher, Foreign Demand Good and the Receipts Light.

Report Showing That the Illinois Wheat Crop is Practically Ruined.

Wheat took on a bullish aspect this morning, everything apparently favoring that condition. Liverpool closing cables were 10 higher, the Illinois state crop report was very bad and the Price Currier summary was bullish for the first time. The wheat market was opening higher. May, starting high at 29c 1/2 against yesterday's closing of 28c. The market held at about that price for a time but when London cables reported the war situation as extremely critical the market turned around and began to decline. A good foreign demand was reported. Northwest receipts were moderate, 27 cars compared with 38 last week and 28 last year. May advanced to 70c 1/2, the highest that at the end of the first hour's trading. The market had but soon recovered and was back to the high point again. Late in the day it fell to 70c, but the close was at 70c 1/2, an advance of 1/2c for the day. The elevators bought 19 cars of cash wheat at the May price.

Chicago received 10 cars of wheat. The amount of business reported was the same. New York yesterday was 46,000 bushels. The clearance of wheat and flour from the port of Liverpool was 1,000,000 bushels to 800,000. The small present shipments to foreign countries was about the only development in the market that could be considered other than bullish. The following from the Illinois crop report mentioned practically the other states when crop of that state:

Report of the state of the Illinois wheat crop for 1896-97. The yield of the counties in the state, including almost all of the winter wheat growing counties, are to the extent of 1,746,000 acres—was winter killed or destroyed by floods and the like. The yield of the 1,746,000 acres—was winter killed or destroyed by floods and the like—so poor that under the most favorable conditions from now until harvest is to be expected. The yield of the state may be expected to be 700,000 bushels. The outlook at this date is not bullish, more than enough wheat for some time to come is to be had this season, and the people will have to depend on other states for wheat for consumption only once before the agricultural year is over. The fall significance of the Illinois report may be judged from the fact that the previous year's report was not published by the government report of the year before. The wiping out of the Illinois crop is to be expected to be a normal year from India and much short of the shipments from Argentina for wheat, and the market will be in for an average crop. Following were the closing prices on the board:

Wheat—No. 1 hard, 70c 1/2; No. 2 hard, 69c 1/2; No. 3 hard, 68c 1/2; No. 4 hard, 67c 1/2; No. 5 hard, 66c 1/2; No. 6 hard, 65c 1/2; No. 7 hard, 64c 1/2; No. 8 hard, 63c 1/2; No. 9 hard, 62c 1/2; No. 10 hard, 61c 1/2; GROWING EXPORT TRADE.

The official statement of the values of our principal domestic exports, which show a marked increase for the current fiscal year, forms the subject of an article in the Chicago Chronicle. The articles and classes of articles included in the statement are breadstuffs, unmanufactured cotton, mineral oils and provisions, including cattle and hogs. During the fiscal year 1894 the total value of these exports was $357,500,000 in round figures. In 1895 it was $520,700,000, a decrease of $50,000,000. In 1896 it was $545,700,000, nearly a recovery of $27,000,000. During the nine months ending with March this year the total was $521,200,000. This is $47,000,000 more than for the corresponding months of the fiscal year 1894. At the same rate of increase for the remaining quarter of the current year the total for the whole year will be $645,700,000, or $60,200,000 more than for the year 1894.

In the latter year, these exports were about 66 per cent of the total merchandise exports. This year will probably prove to be a smaller percentage of the total, since our exports of manufactures have been increasing rapidly, and, no doubt, more rapidly than the exports of these staples, as the complete returns for the first half of the current year indicate. Estimating on the basis of returns for the first eight months of the year, the Chronicle places the merchandise exports for the entire fiscal year at about $1,09,000,000, or about $70,000,000 more than in any previous year in the history of the country.

It is interesting to learn, although probably only a coincidence, that our merchandise exports heretofore have shown a marked decrease after panics and as marked an increase a year or two before recovery from panic depressions. In the fiscal year 1857 our exports amounted to $235,500,000, a figure never before reached. These came in the panic of 1857, and the exports for the following fiscal year fell to $27,200,000. But in that era of comparatively free trade there was great commercial and industrial elasticity, and the panic depression was of short duration. In 1857 the exports rose again to $229,000,000, and in 1860 to $325,500,000—a figure then unprecedented and that was not reached again until 1866. The panic of 1873 did not operate to check exports immediately, for in the fiscal year 1874 the record-breaking figure of $356,300,000 was reached, but the next year there was a drop to $312,400,000. From this time there was a recovery, slow at first, which did not come until after 1881, when the total was $602,000,000.

In view of these figures showing that a decrease in foreign trade and panic depression have been coincident, and that an increase in foreign trade has been followed by business recovery, the present steady growth in our exports to foreign countries must be highly gratifying. The figures show that during the first eight months of the current fiscal year the exports exceeded the imports of merchandise in value by no less than $312,571,200. The nearest approach to this in the past was $264,661,660 for the entire fiscal year 1879. The prospect is that the balance for 1878 will be exceeded by about $100,000,000 this year.

According to the balance of trade theorists we must be on the threshold of an era of unexampled prosperity, even surpassing that which followed resumption in 1873, because the balance is now largely in our favor.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

Thirty-two years ago today, Abraham Lincoln died at Washington, the victim of assassination, and the whole country was plunged into mourning. The sad event, most shocking in its nature, caused a movement of sympathy throughout the world, and the expressions of grief and condolence formed of him in the entire world have never diminished.

On the contrary it has grown, with the lapse of years, and no other name in the long list of the able occupants of the presidency arouses so much genuine respect and enthusiasm today. So long as the republic lasts, the distinguished services and lofty character of Abraham Lincoln will ever be held in grateful remembrance. The highest niche in the American temple of fame is his, and succeeding generations will learn to revere his memory and to point with pride to his grand achievements in defense of the Union and in behalf of human liberty.

A biographer, writing ten years ago of his remarkable career, gave expression to these sentiments: "His goodness of heart, his abounding charity, his quick wit and overflowing humor, which made him the hero of many true stories and a thousand legends, are not less valuable themselves, but they are lost to the world by the evidences that continually appear of his extraordinary qualities of mind and of character. His powerful grasp of details, his analytic capacity, his unerring logic, his perception of human nature, would have made him unequal in any age of the world, the quality, that in the opinion of many, made him the specially fitted agent of Providence in the salvation of the country.

His absolute freedom from prejudice or passion in weighing the motives of his contemporaries and the deepest problems of state gives him pre-eminence among the illustrious men that have preceded and followed him in his great office. Simple and modest as he was in his demeanor, he was one of the most self-respecting of rulers. Although his kindness of heart was proverbial, although he was always glad to please and unwilling to offend, few presidents have been more sensible of the dignity of their office and more prompt to maintain it against encroachments. He was at all times unquestionably the head of the government, and, though not inclined to interfere with the routine business of the departments, he tolerated no interference in important matters."

His mastery of statecraft was shown by the last speech which he delivered only a few days before his assassination. On the occasion of a serenade on April 11, he delivered to the people gathered in front of the executive mansion a brief political address in which he discussed with dignity and force the problems of reconstruction then crowding upon public consideration. While congratulating the country upon the decisive victories of the previous year, he expressly asserted that, although he had been present in the final operations, "no part of the honor, for plan or execution, was his." Although his kindness of heart was proverbial, although he was always glad to please and unwilling to offend, few presidents have been more sensible of the dignity of their office and more prompt to maintain it against encroachments. He was at all times unquestionably the head of the government, and, though not inclined to interfere with the routine business of the departments, he tolerated no interference in important matters."

The last days of Professor Drummond, says the Christian Commonwealth, "seem to have been extremely pathetic. He was quite helpless, and had to be wheeled about in a bath chair. On the occasion of his last visit Dr. Stalker held a portrait of himself seated in the bath chair, under which he had written 'The Descent of Man.' The pathos of these words affected the doctor deeply."

Professor Lucien Blaize of the Kansas university advances the theory that by the use of electricity the carbon pigment which gives color to the negro's skin can be dissolved and removed and the negro be made a white man. The professor is receiving numerous letters from persons of African descent who are eager to change their complexions.

The duke of Leeds, who appears to be the duke for the governor generalship of Canada, to succeed the earl of Aberdare, is known in England as the gun duke, for the reason that he is the son of a partner and managing director of the firm of Holland & Co., which has the largest gun business in the United Kingdom.

As usual, the disclosures regarding Spalding, the president of the Globe Savings bank at Chicago and treasurer of the University of Illinois, have brought out the fact that there was a woman in the case. For years he has been lavish money on a pretty type-writer.

Since 1878 over 4000 patents relating to bicycles have been granted by the United States Patent office, and at least half of these have been issued in the last six years. There is no telling in what manner we shall see the wheels go round in the next year or two.

The coming dedication of the Grant memorial calls to mind that there will soon be in Philadelphia a fitting companion to the monument to Washington that has been erected by the Philadelphia branch of the Order of the Cincinnatus.

Governor Clough has started the reconstruction of the Grant monument by a message urging the appropriation of $100,000 to build the fourth insane hospital at Anoka. The governor proposes to place the responsibility where it belongs.

In this temper he discussed the recent action of the Unionists of Louisiana, where 12,000 voters had availed themselves of the franchise, giving his full approval to their course, but not committing himself to any similar method in other cases. "Any exclusive and inflexible plan," he said, "would surely become a new entanglement." * * * If we reject and spurn them, we do our utmost to disorganize and disperse them. We, in effect, say to the white men, "You are worthless, or worse, we will neither help you or be helped by you." To the blacks we say, "This cup of misery which these, your old masters, hold to your lips, we will dash from you and leave you to the chances of gathering the spilled and scattered contents in some vague and undefined when, where and how. * * * If, on the contrary, we sustain the new government of Louisiana, the converse is made true. Concede that it is only to what it should be as the egg is to the fowl, we shall sooner have the fowl by hatching the egg than by showing how very closely that body is divided on the tariff question.

If the floods continue much longer, Jim Hill may be compelled to retire his old Red River steamship line.

HUMOROUS HITS.

New York Press: Drawing her out—

Bringing woman to the front? Yes indeed! The green goods peddler thereupon applied himself to the doorbell knob.

Washington Star: "I don't think it was just come back from the Orient, but the young man she had been married to, she said, she committed the man and wished many happy returns of."

London Tribune: "What I mean is that Samuels and Mrs. Pollock was in that last summer?" You mean the girl with the umbrella? thought he.

British Spy: "I don't think it was just come back from the Orient, but the young man she had been married to, she said, she committed the man and wished many happy returns of."

Peek: Marine Engineering, a new monthly publication, whose field seems to be a little broader than where its title implies, is out, and the initial number is well up to what those interested in marine work have been led to expect.

The new publication is well printed, fully illustrated, with outlines, half-tones and etchings, and its text is valuable and compact, but thoroughly clear and sufficient. It will undoubtedly and should gain a wide and speedy recognition of its value. Among the leading articles in the initial number is a lucid description of the "New Horizontal Engines for the United States Cruisers Chicago," a finely illustrated article on the Pennsylvania—the lately launched and largest cruiser afloat—and a well-diagrammed contribution on "High Steam Pressures on Sea-Going Ships." There are several other valuable and extensive writings on a variety of subjects.

Marine Engineering is $2 a year, and the Marine Publishing company, World building, New York, will fill all orders.

Col. Harrison Gray Otis, of the Los Angeles Times, denies a recently circulated story that President McKinley has been promoted to the rank of admiral.

Uncle Sam's new battleship, the Iowa, is already famous for the power of her guns and the thickness of her armor, but she is not yet known in this respect than the newer British battleship, the Majestic.

Philadelphia Record: The achievement of the new federal battleship, the Iowa, of the new battleship Iowa, of the Iowa, has been well up to what those interested in marine work have been led to expect.

Chicago Tribune: "I don't think it was just come back from the Orient, but the young man she had been married to, she said, she committed the man and wished many happy returns of."

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: If Leonidas had been called on to fight 250,000 Europeans he might stick to his gun, but Col. Vassos sticks to his sword.

Chicago Post: The Greeks want to fight and the powers are afraid that they may have to fight. That is the situation just now. And, to some Greeks, it is to be blamed for it all. She wouldn't be blamed.

St. Paul Pioneer Press: The hyenas, drunks and prostitutes of Ceylon, it is said, are more remarkable than the speed with which the speed was developed.

Philadelphia Ledger: "What looks very much like a horizontal line, part of the affairs of the allied powers, is reported from Paris, where the admirals are said to have been given orders that they may be put to sea as soon as possible.

ICE OUT

North Wind Drives the Big Field to the South Shore.

North Shore is Entirely Clear and Boats Can Go Out.

Sault Canal Will Open Any Time--Boat Boats to Go Sunday.

Following these days of mellow sun and wasting winds the ice in Lake Superior has day by day been assuming a more ghastly appearance, and when this morning a fairly strong wind brought its persuasive force to bear on the ice field from the north shore, a wide space of deep blue opened up as far as the limit of vision, and navigation at the port of Duluth was open for four hours at least. The open space is plenty enough to admit a goodly fleet of craft, and a wind from south or west would probably turn the entire mass out into the lake, there is nothing to stop it.

The south side of the bay is almost entirely clear of ice, though there is a good deal left above the Northern Pacific bridge. The ice in the St. Louis river is yet to break up, but the same form that has quite been at work on the disintegration of the ice field is the lake are at work there, and the ice is soft. The tug Recruit had but little difficulty in breaking through it the other day when it ran through the losses.

Reports from the Sault indicate that that passage will be ready about as soon as it is needed. A telegram was recently received to the effect that the ice is probably leading Mud lake. A local newspaper reported yesterday that boats would arrive at Duluth about a week from Saturday.

The A. Booth company expects to start its boats out next Sunday.

IN OLD KENTUCK.

No Choice Yet For United States Senator.

Louisville, Ky., April 15.—A special to the Evening Post from Frankfort, Ky., says: It is reported on what is believed to be excellent authority that there is a narrow breach between State Senator
Henry L. Martin and the United States
Senator J. C. Blackburn of the Silver Democrats. Martin, who has worked like a Trojan for Blackburn for the past two years, has now had a chance to win the prize himself, it having been conclusively demonstrated that Blackburn cannot be elected, as Hancock and the lieutenants have so far declined to countenance him, and even gone so far as to bitterly denounce Martin for his alleged treachery. But all this was done in private, while in open the Blackburn men were solicitous as to Martin.

At 9:30 this morning Judge Cantrell of the circuit court ordered the grand jury to report at once on the bribery charges which it has been investigating. Later Judge Cantrell called the grand jury into court and instructed them as to their duty in the case before them. He said he regretted that the matter came up before the president of the legislature, and felt that it was the duty of the legislature to wash its own dirty linen, but having attempted investigation, it was then that he spoke to it, he said. "In so doing I comprehend not to show favoritism." This unusual step on the part of a circuit judge was received with surprise by both Republicans and Democrats alike.

The first ballot resulted as follows:
Hunter, 58; Blackburn, 42; Martin, 10; Boden, 1. Leaving Hunter still two votes short of election. No motion to adjourn was made and the second ballot was ordered.

The third and third ballots resulted as follows: Hunter, 58; Blackburn, 42; Martin, 10; Boyle, 6; Stone, 1.
A motion was then made that the general assembly adjourn, which prevailed.

TOO MUCH FOR PARIS.

Princess De Chimay Is Not Allowed to Appear.

London, April 15.—A special dispatch from Paris says that Princess De Chimay, formerly Miss Clara Ward, of Detroit, Mich., recently divorced by her husband, on the ground of intimacy with James Rizzi, a Hungarian gypsy musician, was on Sunday evening announced her debut at a music hall there today, after an interview with the pre-fet of police. In Paris, was threatened to close the hall, but, as per her request, she carried out the performance of the stage in public. The princess is reported to have gone to the south of France.

FIRES IN NEW ORLEANS
New Orleans, April 15.—The Morescott building, Canal street, between Poy-dras and North streets, owned by B.
J. Montgomery Furniture Company and John J. Gaucher Sons, Croker, is burning. The loss will be heavy.

The Morescott building, with contents, was entirely destroyed.
Evening Telegram, J. A. Aikin and wife, who have been ill several months and a few days ago left for Europe, have returned to the south of France.

A DEATH BED MARRIAGE
Cleveland, April 15.—A death bed marriage was consummated in the St. John's Episcopal Church this afternoon. John T. Hobbs, a well-known Cleveland lawyer, and Mrs. Anna O.
Pacey were lovers years ago, but were apart. Some years ago Mrs. Pacey became the wife of John Hobbs. Hobbs renewed his attention. She has been ill several months and a few days ago her life was failing. She expressed a desire for the marriage, and this afternoon was married to Hobbs upon her deathbed.

KANSAS CITY: FIRE BUGS
Kansas City, April 15.—Conclusive proof that at least one or two of last night's fires were started by firebugs diaries was developed today by the finding of kerosene-saturated bundles of rags etc. in the ruins. As yet no clue to the fire bugs has been found.
The aggregate loss on the different buildings will amount to $75,000, with insurance about two-thirds that amount.

ABOUT PENSIONERS. Minnesota's Veterans Numerous on the Rolls.

The total number of soldiers who participated on the Union side of the Civil War was 2,260,000, and the number of persons now drawing pensions from the government is 970,000, or nearly 40 per cent of the total number of enlisted men, says the New York Sun. There are more pensioners in Minnesota than in any other state, except New York, and in Western states since the close of hostilities but not perhaps, to just mention the disparity, otherwise not susceptible of explanation. It is thought that the commissioners of pension have been more liberal in their grants than in Indiana and Michigan, and they and their friends have exercised themselves most vigorously in endeavoring to secure a larger representation for neighbors on the pension roll.

A comparison between the complements furnished to the Union army (counting re-enlistments as first enlistments) 259,147 soldiers, and Indiana under like conditions, furnished 197,147, but the two are not nearly so large as Indiana and Michigan, and this disparity is due to the fact that the commissioners of pensioners have been more liberal in their grants than in Indiana and Michigan, and they and their friends have exercised themselves most vigorously in endeavoring to secure a larger representation for neighbors on the pension roll.

VOORHEES

Funeral of the Dead Ex-Senator Takes Place in Terre Haute.

Governor of Indiana, Ex-Governors and Many Notables Were Present.

Thousands Looked Upon His Dead Face--All Business Suspended.

Terre Haute, Ind., April 15.—The funeral of Senator Daniel W. Voorhees took place this afternoon from St. Stephen's Episcopal church. Rev. John C. Sulzer, the rector, officiated. He is the church in which he was confirmed a number of years ago and he has attended when here. During the two days the remains have been here the funeral having been delayed awaiting the arrival of his eldest son, Charles S. Voorhees, of Spokane, Wash., they have lain in state in the parlors of the Terre Haute house, which he has made his home since he broke up housekeeping a number of years ago. A steady stream of people has passed through the flowered room and looked upon the face of their dead friend. All classes and conditions of people have been represented, and their tearful eyes were told of the sorrow of the universal sorrow.

Following the afternoon all places of business in the central part of Terre Haute were closed. The public and private schools were dismissed and the whole town turned out to do honor to the dead. Voorhees was a Mason and the lodges participated in the funeral exercises. The city council and many friends and relatives of the deceased were present. # SLAVES

Pitiable Condition of Some of America's Swarms of Italian Laborers.

Are Completely Under the Thumbs of Hard Hearted, Relentless Padrones.

A Disgraceful System Which Will Soon Be Stamp-ed Out.

Does human slavery still exist in this country?

The department of labor so declares, in an official bulletin that is on the point of being issued. Its experts, after an exhaustive investigation of the subject, assert that tens of thousands of people in the United States are even now held in abject servitude under the famous padrone system. Indeed, a majority of Italian residents in America today are thus oppressed, notwithstanding the widespread notion to the effect that the system originated so long ago wiped out. It is true, that the buying of children wholesale for immigration into this country, where they were to be forced into body and soul, by fiendish tortures, into general corruption has been stopped, but the bulk of the Italians in the so-called land of the free are still held, wholly at the mercy of "padres," who rob them of their earnings and abuse them in every imaginable way, mostly by laws which are administered by the Padroni (Bosses).

The padrone first came into prominence in the United States soon after the end of the civil war. At that period there was a great demand for labor, and special legislation was passed to promote the immigration of foreign laborers under contract. Then it was that Italian immigration agents in this country employed persons in Italy to collect laborers and ship them across the ocean, prepaying their passage to the New World under contract for the sum of $100 a month, and sending their letters, acts as their post office, before the time of their departure, to procure employment for them. For a compensation he will act as a marriage broker. On turning over his money to the padrone, he does not get a regular receipt, but a slip of paper, on which the sum deposited is written. After some time has passed, and he has not made his money back, he will be compelled to pay the capital on demand. In fact, he makes the padrone his agent, and to the agent, and he was able to add to his profits by charging unreasonable rates for sending the savings of the men back to Italy. Finally, the padrone got a commission on the return tickets to Italy when the contract expired.

Perceiving that a substantial sum was to be made by employing labor in Italy under took to furnish laborers on their own account. Thus came into being the padrone. By tall promises and threats, he induced women and children at work was commonly committed to the agent, and he was able to add to his profits by charging unreasonable rates for sending the savings of the men back to Italy. Finally, the padrone got a commission on the return tickets to Italy when the contract expired.

shanty are uniformly a swindle. Bread worth 10 cents a pound, flour 10 cents; macaroni worth 3 cents a pound, fish 10 cents; lard worth 6 cents a pound brings 20 cents; vegetables worth one-third of a cent a pound are sold for 10 cents; meat 5 cents a pound brings 15 cents; and tobacco, oil and tobacco are disposed of at an advance of 100 per cent over market rates. The padrone prepares to supply other useful things need by the workers such as underclothing, shoes and overalls, at fancy prices. A 5-cent postage stamp is paid for a letter, and a envelope, costs 10 cents, writing, letter and a charge of 10 to 25 cents is made, and for bringing a letter from the postoffice a similar charge. The bill exacts from 10 to 25 per cent for the time which the laborer sleeps, although they may have been furnished gratis by the contractor. Regular fees are charged for medical services and accident insurance. The insurance is not taken out and the case must indeed be serious if a physician is called in. In some cases the monthly taxes are levied under the head of "contributions to the Holy Virgin."

Indian laborers are swindled out of their sum wholesale, as associated with New York city alone. Probably not one of them has legal status under the bank of laws in the state. When an Italian goes to find anything out, he starts a bank. No capital is required. Not long ago a man who had just started a bank was sent a bill, full payment to a friend, requiring him to pay the sum of $100 as he had no money to buy food. The Italian banks are shabby little affairs, run in connection with the padrone, and their earnings are stored in macaroni factories, beer saloons and cigar shops. Some of them try to attract attention by a display in the windows, but the gold pieces, Italian notes and a few gold pieces, along with worthless duplicate drafts, old express receipts and Confederate money. Having nothing ready for business, the banker goes out among the people who come from his part of Italy and solicits their patronage.

The function of the Italian bankers is to take care of the savings of the savings of his customers and send their letters, acts as their post office, before the time of their departure, to procure employment for them. For a compensation he will act as a marriage broker. On turning over his money to the padrone, he does not get a regular receipt, but a slip of paper, on which the sum deposited is written. AN ASSIGNMENT FILED.

Minnesota Point Street Railway Company Makes One.

The Minnesota Point Street Railway company this afternoon filed an assignment of its debts. The company is unable to pay its obligations, particularly a promissory note held by Charles A. Pettigill, amounting to $25,000, and the company has little or no debt outside of this, but the present condition of the money market finds it impossible to take care of this obligation. The assignee will probably operate the road this summer.

Indoor Field Day.

The indoor field day of the Duluth High School Athletic association will be held tomorrow night at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. The members of the association have been in active training for the event for some time past, and it is very interesting. There will be some competition, including the standing broad and high jump, and putting the shot. A. S. Ames will give an exhibition of club swinging, and Mr. P. G. Gardner, Bartender, will do some horizontal work.

The officers of the day will be followed by Harry Meining, clerk of course; Morrison, time-keeper; Ames, referee; Gresham and Pinal, judges. The events will be for points under the pentathlon system.

Judge Cant was busily engaged this morning in hearing a couple of appeals from the Marquette iron company against the receiver's disallowance of their claims. The claims of each of which being tried together, as they involve practically the same issues, are the First National Bank of Chicago, and the Standard National Bank, also of Chicago. The amount of the First National is over $20,000, and that of the Bankers' National bank is over $40,000.

The receiver's claim is that the notes when given were secured by bonds, and that the claimants must try to some other on bonds before presenting their claims before him. In answer to the claims on part of the notes given after the receiver's appointment, the Standard National bank had no power to give notes to make up contracts. The case was on trial at noon.

Mr. Richards said that the water plant purchase bill as it had passed was not the draft sent down by him at the suggestion of Mayor Trudeau; the provisions for the purchase of a light plant alone having been omitted.

City Attorney Richards said today that the water plant purchase bill as it had passed was not the draft sent down by him at the suggestion of Mayor Trudeau; the provisions for the purchase of a light plant alone having been omitted.

Mr. Spencer said that Senator Speer's information was correct. An alteration was made at the suggestion of Ellsworth Benham, who said that St. Paul would object to the feature. In answer to the claims on part of the notes given after the receiver's appointment, the Standard National bank had no power to give notes to make up contracts. The case was on trial at noon.

An amendment curing the omission was drafted by Mr. Richards and will be sent to Senator Spencer.

THE WEATHER.

United States Agricultural Department Weather Bureau, Duluth. Synopsis of weather conditions for the twenty-four hours ending at 12 m. (Central time, April 15, 1897). The mean temperature has developed within the central region of the country, yesterday morning over Eastern Lake Superior. The storm is now central near Detroit. High winds are reported in the Great Lakes. While the Turkish forces are the greatest at present, it must be remembered that the sentiment of the natives in Thessaly is largely with the Greeks, and it is expected that a declaration of war will be instantly followed by uprisings in Epirus, Macedonia, and Albania against the Turks. This would go a long way towards insuring success for the Greek arms.

A WELL WON TRIUMPH. The victory gained by the representatives of the Duluth high school in the debate with their Minneapolis competitors last night is a success of which they have a right to feel very proud. Certainly the people of Duluth high school can be satisfied with the outcome of the contest, and they are particularly gratified with the manner in which the victory was secured. The Duluth debaters were somewhat handicapped at the start by the side of the argument which they were forced to take. The subject was, "Resolved, that the United States government should own and operate the steam railways of the country." The Duluth debaters would have preferred the affirmative side, but that choice fell to Minneapolis, and therefore deserve special credit for the excellent showing they made on the negative side.

The result was also a victory of inquisitive argument and keen wit over polished oratory. The Minneapolis representatives gave finished orations, beautifully worded and splendidly delivered, but the Duluth debaters presented the soundest and most convincing arguments and they gave evidence of possessing the debating ability, tearing the contentions of their opponents to pieces and cornering them with pertinent questions which demanded an answer. The Duluth representatives showed that they had studied both sides of the question thoroughly and were ready to meet and conquer any argument which might be made against their position, and the victory was properly theirs.

Its principal Greek river is the Peneus, which rises in Epirus and empties into the gulf of Salonica, after flowing through Tempe. Its modern Greek name is Salamnias (accent on the last syllable), but it would be better to call it by its old name, which is shorter and smoother. Its main branch, flowing down from Olympus, on the north, is the Xerias. This unites with the Peneus between Larissa and Tempe, and high up in the valley of the Xerias, the Turkish town is Ellassona, where a strong Turkish force is. Eleftherochori ("Free-town") almost on the boundary line, due west of Larissa, and some twenty miles distant, while Ellassona is north northwest of Larissa and nearly thirty miles away. Tyrnavos (a Greek town), also on the border, is on the road from Larissa to Ellassona, and perhaps fifteen or twenty miles southeast of that Turkish post. It corresponds in position to Eleftherochori on the Turkish side. But in this quarter the Greek positions are weak, and not easily defensible, while farther west, on the other side of high Pindus (7665 feet above the sea) the Greek positions are strong and those of the Turks are weak. That is the Turkish forces are divided by Pindus and cannot well communicate with each other, while the Greeks, supported by their fleet in the gulf of Arta, can enter Turkey from the southwest and gain impregnable positions by moving rapidly through the difficult country.

The Springfield Republican, discussing the military situation, says it might be supposed that the pass of Tempe, which the Greeks control, would give them great advantage in Eastern Thessaly, but such does not seem to be the fact. It is strong, but more for invasion than for defense, since it can be turned by a force coming down on the northern side of the Peneus, from Ellassona. The railroad gives the Greeks an advantage in Thessaly. It runs from the fine port of Volo, thirty-seven miles northwesternly to Larissa. You then go back to Xeristino and there start for Trikala and Kalabaka—some seventy-five miles by rail—which is a long distance in Greece. Midway on this line from Volo to Kalabaka is Pharsala, near which Caesar defeated Pompey; indeed, the whole region is marked by the marches and battles of the Romans before the reign of Augustus.

This railroad, so long as the Turks can be kept away from it, will be of much service to the Greeks in transferring troops. The Turks have no railroad much nearer than Salonica, and none that can do them any good, unless Macedonia is invaded.

The Anoka Union says: "Representative Schmidt of Duluth lobbies Representative Jacobson at every opportunity and gains the plaudits of the house and populace."

There is considerable talk about a bust of Miss Frances E. Willard, but it must be a mistake, because Miss Willard has always declared her opposition to busts.

The senate very sensibly has killed the Reeves mining taxation bill, and the present satisfactory system of taxing the mines will be continued.

Pennsylvania has two Arbor days, both in April. Even one seems to be too much for Minnesota, so far as its general observance goes.

The pastor at Samson, Minn., who claims to have no airship, may expect to be put on trial at the bar of the next presbytery.

So far no man from another state has been appointed to a postmastership in Minnesota. It will thus be seen that we are holding our own.

Read the Saturday Herald tomorrow and get all the news of the day and a wealth of special features, handsomely illustrated.

The legislature's munificent appropriation of $5000 for a normal school at Duluth is declined without thanks. The latter is the largest place in that region and

Special Evangelistic Services

The services will be conducted by State Evangelist Ervin at the First Christian church have aroused considerable interest. He preached last evening on "Elijah to Come to Earth to Heaven," and tonight will preach the first sermon in a series on the general topic, "The Church of Christ Identified with the World." "The Christian Beginnings," and on Saturday night he will discuss "Its Founder, Foundation, Laws and Saints." Mrs. Ervin leads the singing and sings some special pieces at each service. The meetings will continue through next week.

Cigarmakers' Dance.

The Cigarmakers' Local Union No. 294 will give their seventh annual ball at the Union hall, Easter Monday evening. April 17. The band will furnish the music and Ed Fisher will act as prompter. A large cigar will be exhibited and the successful bidder will receive a box of high grade union made cigars. The cigarmakers' dances have always been a social success and this promises to eclipse all former ones. All are invited.

ICELANDIC LEOPERS.

Three Captured En Route to the Northwest.

Campbelltown, N. B., April 16.—Three leopards, natives of Iceland, have arrived at the lazaretto of Tracadie, Gloucester county. They were brought from Wimpoles, Maine, in a freight car, which was directly behind the locomotive and was placed behind to warn the public to keep away from it.

The visitors to the disease came to Canada through the ports of Halifax and St. John after having crossed the ocean in the steerage of a steamship.

The committee, consisting of A. H. Viele, C. D. Shepard and C. S. Davis, appointed at the last meeting to interview the club and to follow up and recommend course to be followed, reported and presented a plan under which the club can be successfully operated the coming year without any association with the club. The club's assets, consisting of unexpired bills and assessments, amount to $122; bills received and assessments $29; and on hand, $129, making a total of $160. This amount was estimated there were $200 worth of useful and uncollectible debts, leaving $60 as assets to the club.

The club today has 109 members in good standing. The actual membership was larger. It was decided to reduce the membership fees from $25 to $10 for a period of six days.

The committee's report was accepted and the members were thanked by the club.

The suggestions were adopted as closely as possible and the club will be opened within a very short time.

The secretaries made a brief report showing the results of the inspection between Jan. 1, 1897, and March 1, 1897. The total receipts were about $1575. The liabilities, consisting of accounts payable and bills payable, amounted to $1785.76, leaving the liabilities $210.76 in excess of the assets, not including the property.

The plan suggested for the operation of the club requires an expenditure of $745.

This summer and the dues payable Sept. 1 it is estimated that the club can be freed from debt. This is without making any allusion to the debts.

The plan suggested for the operation of the club requires an expenditure of $745.

This summer and the dues payable Sept. 1 it is estimated that the club can be freed from debt. This is without making any allusion to the debts.

The club today has 109 members in good standing. The actual membership was larger. It was decided to reduce the membership fees from $25 to $10 for a period of six days.

The committee's report was accepted and the members were thanked by the club.

The suggestions were adopted as closely as possible and the club will be opened within a very short time.

The secretaries made a brief report showing the results of the inspection between Jan. 1, 1897, and March 1, 1897. The total receipts were about $1575. The liabilities, consisting of accounts payable and bills payable, amounted to $1785.76, leaving the liabilities $210.76 in excess of the assets, not including the property.

A Thorough Clothing Store!

This was a very small clothing store when it was first started, but it has become a successful Clothing store because it had developed methods in clothes selling that have suited the people so thoroughly that its advancement has been rapid. The progress of the store has been continuous. There are pegs in this store's history where past facts and present achievements are hung for comparison. And when we say that in any corner of the store, or in the store at large, better methods or bigger stocks or lower prices prevail, we have beforehand proved the statement to be exact and borne out by the history of the business.

Never was the store in better shape to meet your

What is the Aeolian?

It is an orchestral organ with an exquisite tone quality, capable of producing the most superb music. Anyone can play this wonderful instrument and, after familiarizing themselves with the various selections, can produce them with all the shading and expression intended by the composer or given them by the artist. This marvel of the age is endorsed by the great artists and by the profession generally.

BROKEN

Mississippi Levees at Last Yield to the Enormous Pressure.

Break in Briggs' Levee Will Flood a Very Large Section.

Delta, Mississippi, Will Be Entirely Submerged By Night—Floods Elsewhere.

Tuliah, Ala., April 17.—Briggs levee was comparatively an old one. Work was done on it in 1870, and the levee about two weeks ago, and the levee was breached and strengthened by being thrown over the top and down the sides in front and rear, and the work raised fully four feet with a very large barge. The Louisiana convicts were at work on the levee and had completed about half the work and perhaps a little more. Assistant State Engineer H. C. Brown was in charge of the work and last Sunday morning the levee came near breaking in the same place that it broke last night. Assistant Engineer John T. Moore was on the scene Monday and Tuesday last and every effort was made to complete the work.

The levee is on the lower end of Madison parish, and it is probable that it will affect the lower end of Madison and all of Concordia parish. A ridge extends across from the river bank to the Mississippi, and the water of the river, and this will most probably protect the northern end and the front portion of Tensas parish by diverting the river water back into the Tensas river, which gradually approaches the Mississippi river, further down, near Concordia lake. It will cause immense damage as there are some large cotton plantations only a few miles to the north of the breach, but all the way down to the Ouachita river, which will act as the barrier to keep it from extending further south. The levee is now about four feet high, and it will be impossible to stop the crevasses as the land behind the levee is fully sixteen feet below the levee in water.

DELTA SUBMERGED.

Entire Town Will Soon Be Under Water.

Vicksburg, Miss., April 17.—At 10 o'clock this morning the river shows a fall of three-tenths. The United States cutter Florence arrived at 11 a.m. from Davis island and reports the second bridge across the river to be broken. It is from the Bedford's Landing. This may possibly be the break at Briggs, as the Florence came up the chute and was some distance from the river bank. At 30 a.m. in the town of Delta is more than one-half under water, and its inundation will be entire before dark. The United States steamer Etheridge arrived at 1 p.m. from the Briggs and reports the break 500 feet wide at 2 a.m., 1200 feet wide at 10:30 a.m. The steamer did not stop to make a safety-boat to Baton Rouge this morning. The United States steamer Etheridge arrived at the break at noon, and will remain in hopes of saving life. The ruined break at Bedford's store is not repaired.

BROKEN AT LAST.

Mississippi Pouring Through a Break in the Levee.

Memphis, Tenn., April 17.—The crisis of perfect eyesight. We don't all have but the modern science has perfected many of the eyes, and perfect vision and making it almost "as good as new" better than some people's "new." Nine persons out of ten whose eyes are not normal can be assisted in securing perfect eyesight by the use of glasses chosen by an oculist, and then getting them ground at an expert optician.

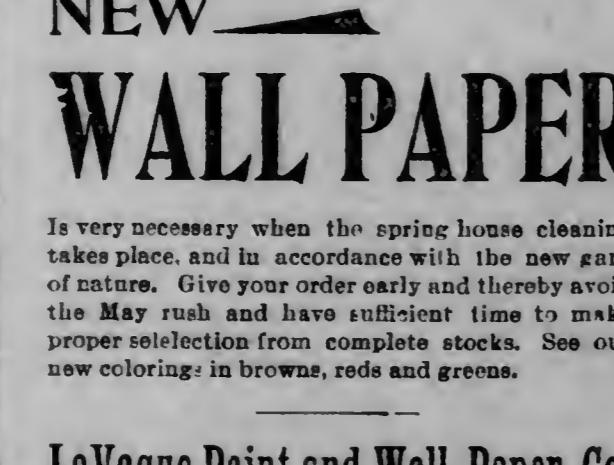

Call and see our Hawkeye & Poco Cameras. Parties purchasing same will be taught to develop and print their own pictures if desired without charge.

MAY RELIEVE YAZOO.

Greencastle, April 17.—The break in the levee in the Yazoo and Natchez District near Delta, which occurred last night, promises slight relief to the Yazoo, the Mississippi, and by breaking, an outlet for the water at Vicksburg, since the river bulletin today shows the river at Cairo, Illinois, and especially St. Louis and Kansas City, is falling. There is no hope of any decline at Cairo, The dangerous stage of water at Arkansas City is alarming.

CONDITIONS AT ST. LOUIS.

St. Louis, April 17.—The river here is a strip of swamp about two miles wide, immediately behind the levee where the break occurred, and beyond that are many of the finest plantations in Northern Louisiana. Unless the water can be stopped the overflow will affect the town of Tensas and Concordia parish, and all of Tensas and Concordia parish and all of Tensas and Concordia parish.

The water will affect the town of Delta, and the entire area of the Delta, and the entire

Mill Workers Will Have Their Next Meeting In a Week.

Will Know Then Just What is to Be Done About Wages.

Large Increase in the Membership of the Union—Other News.

The Millworkers' Protective Union will hold its next meeting Great Eastern Hall, Saturday night, April 24, by which time it is expected that all of the mills will have been started, and the wages offered and hours set, will constitute a day's work will be well understood. The union committee this week have been unable to obtain any information on these points, which would permit of an accurate report, although the tendency has been to cut wages rather than leave them at the old figure. The men are divided as to the advisability of working twelve hours a day, and without protest, opposing it under any circumstances, while others prefer twelve hours, provided they are to be paid for twelve hours. It is evident that they say, that the mill owners have had no understanding in regard to the wages that are to be paid, each exercising his individual right in the matter.

Many applications for membership in the union are coming in, and the talk concerning the possible intention of mills to come to a general reduction has had the effect of arousing much interest in the organization. The indications are that it will be much stronger in membership this year than last, and that the union's position is far advanced. It will have a majority of the mill workers in Duluth on its rolls.

COLLECTIONS ARE SLOW. G. R. Pease, receiver of the manufacturers' bank, says that collections are being made very slowly, and that the men have been as yet done little to satisfy the receiver, and unable to say at this time when another dividend will be paid to depositors, and considers it doubtful whether he will be able to pay out any more for several months. All of the depositors have not yet claimed the 15 per cent payment which was ordered two months ago.

A RHETORICAL CONTEST. The Women's Christian Temperance Union will conduct another rhetorical contest this time at the Proctor's, Proctor's next Wednesday evening. The winner will be awarded a Demorest silver medal. Several boys and girls of Proctor's will be making preparations for the contest, which promises to be fully as interesting as that given in West Duluth a short time ago.

PROCTOR'S BIRTHDAY. The primary and kindergarten teachers of the Irving school have arranged a very pretty program for next Wednesday, the birthday of the anniversary of Proctor's birth. Two games will be formed in the assembly hall, for the games to be indulged in after the meeting talk of "Proctor's Life" and the singing of his birthday song, thus leading the children to feel how much of their happy childhood is due to Proctor's efforts in their behalf. Misses Schneider and Seaton will lead in the singing.

WEST DULUTH BRIEFS. West End baseball players are beginning to show an interest in the national game, and several clubs will soon be organized.

Services at the First Methodist Episcopal church will be conducted at 9 o'clock, tomorrow morning and 7:30 in the evening, by the rector, Rev. E. C. Johnson.

Edward Kringle has returned from

Saginaw, Mich., to take his old position as gang sawyer in Merrill & Ring's mill.

INDOOR FIELD SPORTS.

Interesting Contest By High School Teams Last Evening.

The indoor field day at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium last night was a very interesting affair, though it was not largely attended. Among those who took part were several high school boys who are candidates for position in the team which will compete with Minneapolis later. Arthur Johnson made the highest score, Ed Hermon took second place with Martin Maginnis third. Preparatory for the event, a contest was held for each event, and among the first below that received no credit. A maximum limit was also set, and while it was passed several times, the minimum limit was not touched. The scores were as follows:

Standing broad jump—Howard, 9 feet 7 1/2 inches; Hermon, 9 feet 1 1/2 inches; Gridley, 8 feet 7 1/2 inches; Maginnis, 8 feet 9 1/2 inches; Olson, 8 feet 3 1/2 inches. Running broad jump—Howard, 10 feet 7 inches; Hermon, 10 feet 6 inches; Hermon and Maginnis, 10 feet 5 1/2 inches; Gridley, 4 feet 3 inches. High jump—Howard, 6 feet 5 1/2 inches; Maginnis, 6 feet 4 1/2 inches; Hermon, 6 feet; Richardson, 6 feet; Heron, 5 feet 8 inches.

THE WEATHER.

United States Agricultural Department, Weather Bureau, Duluth. Synopses of weather conditions for the twenty-four hours ending 12 m. (C. S. T.) April 17.—Yesterday's storm in the southern part of the lake region has passed to the north, but its effects will be followed by fair weather, which is now general in all districts. The weather is fair in the Lower Missouri valley, and an extensive depression is moving eastward across the Great north mountain country, giving a general rise in temperature in that region and in the region between the Rocky mountains and the Mississippi river.

Light frost is reported at Kansas City and Omaha.

Lowest temperature last night: Min. Albert ... 32 McFarlin ... 42 Culver ... 32 McFarlin ... 42 Swift Current ... 38 Qd. Appelle ... 40 Minot ... 32 Bismarck ... 34 Port Arthur ... 25 Hoboken ... 44 Williston ... 35 Bismarck ... 34 West ... 32 Marquette ... 28 St. Paul ... 21 Duluth ... 28 Moorhead ... 46 Bismarck ... 32 Rapid City ... 41 Detroit ... 34 Milwaukee ... 25 Denver ... 34 Omaha ... 36 Dodge City ... 36 Kansas City ... 34 La Crosse ... 24 Memphis ... 48 Duluth (minimum) ... 40 Omaha (minimum) ... 40 minimum yesterday, 31.

Light frost for Duluth and vicinity; generally fair tonight; and Sunday; warmer tonight, and slightly cooler Sunday afternoon; brisk wind Sunday; becoming variable Sunday.

JAMES KENEALY,
Local Forest Officer.

Chicago, April 17.—The weather is fair tonight and Sunday; warmer tonight; generally fair tonight and Sunday; warmer in east portion tonight; Sunday; southerly winds.

THE SUGAR DUTY.

The sugar schedule of the new tariff bill is a subject of considerable criticism. It is asserted that it is found in the interest of the sugar trust and will work largely for its benefit. It proposes to place a tax of 7.10 per cent ad valorem upon an estimated importation of 1,500,000 tons of sugar, valued at $72,000,000, which is expected to produce $31,963,600 in revenue. Under the McKinley law sugar, from reciprocity countries, was free. Under the present law of 1894 the duty is 41 per cent ad valorem. The imports last year were valued at $73,064,000, and produced a revenue of $29,910,000. Sugar is a convenient revenue producer. The people must have it, and as the sugar trust is the only buyer of foreign raw sugar it compels the planters to pay the duty. When the duty of 40 per cent was imposed by the Wilson bill there was no increase in the retail or wholesale quotations. Sugar was sold at a uniform price everywhere throughout the country—in Bar Harbor, Pittsburgh, Omaha, New Orleans and San Francisco—generally twenty pounds for $1, regardless of the distance from the refinery or the cost of transportation. The trust controlled the market and had a contract with the wholesale grocers' association to maintain uniform prices everywhere. The producer, however, in the West Indies received 40 per cent less for his crop.

Why then, it may be asked, should there be any objection to the higher duty imposed by the Dingley bill? The annual consumption of sugar in the United States is about 2,000,000 tons, or 4,500,000,000 pounds. Of this 300,000 tons was produced in the United States, and 1,800 tons imported free from the Hawaiian Islands under the reciprocity treaty. From Germany and other countries of Europe we get about 85,000,000 pounds of refined beet-sugar. The imports of raw sugar amount to about 3,250,000,000 pounds, of which at least 90 per cent is refined and sold by the American Sugar Refining company, as the trust is officially known. The trust also refines and sells 90 per cent of the domestic and Hawaiian product, which gives it the control of about 4,000,000,000 pounds of sugar.

Those who object to the higher duty base their criticisms upon the fact that the Dingley bill not only protects the trust in its monopoly by imposing a duty of one-eighth of a cent a pound on refined sugar from all countries, but imposes one-eighth more, or one-fourth of a cent a pound upon refined sugar from Germany, France, Austria, the Argentine republic, and other countries from which all our imported refined sugar comes, because their governments pay a bounty upon all sugar exported. It is asserted that the extra duty is practically prohibitory. Under the reciprocity treaty with Germany we imported from that country $9,475,

65 worth of sugar in 1893, and $11,063,898 in 1894. In 1895, after the duty was imposed, our imports dropped to $4,940,000, but in 1896 they increased again to $10,494,172 from which a revenue of $1,263,440 was collected last year. It is estimated that the annual revenue on German sugar under the Dingley bill will be $2,619,347. If the extra duty of one-eighth of a cent per pound on sugar from bounty-paying countries were removed the imports would be much larger, but it is difficult to say how much. The Chicago Record says: "A simple mathematical calculation will show what the protection of one-fourth of a cent a pound upon 4,000,000,000 pounds of sugar is worth to the trust, but that is only a part of the damage that is done by schedule E of the Dingley bill. By imposing the extra duty upon German, French and Austrian sugar our congress provides reparation from those countries in the form of embezzles upon our breadstuffs and provisions. The trust makes a profit of $10,000,000. The farmers of the United States lose the market of Europe."

On the other hand, the supporters of the Dingley bill have a good argument to set up in reply to these criticisms. They contend that no retaliation will be practiced by sugar producing countries against our breadstuffs or provisions, while the increased tax on foreign sugar will have the effect of stimulating the production of beet sugar in this country. There is no good reason why we should import one pound of sugar, raw or refined, because we could raise all the sugar needed to meet all the needs of the American people in that time. Much interest is being taken in the subject at present, and if the Dingley bill's sugar schedule should have the effect of stimulating this industry the wisdom of its authors will be vindicated.

THE REEVES BILL'S DEATH.
The Reeves mining tax bill has been killed again, and the people of St. Louis county hope that it will remain dead this time. It sought to revive the old, vicious system of taxing iron mines according to their output, and was probably laid to rest by the Senate. The great apostle to the Gentiles said: "For if Christ be not risen from the dead, then our preaching is vain and our hope is vain." The tomb of Armathwaithe revolutionized the sentiment pervading all Hebrew theology and literature that death ended all and that the grave was the pit of everlasting silence. It is true there were some who looked forward to a day of resurrection, but they were few and materialism was widespread. The witness of the tomb and the final triumph of the Nazarene furnished the lacking evidence of immortality. Those who died in the tomb and the final triumph of the grave was the pit of everlasting silence. ## Wheels and Their Riders.

The Duluth Cycle club held an important meeting during the week at which various matters of moment were discussed and passed upon. An excellent list of officers for 1897 were elected, as follows: President, J. H. Poteet; first vice president, C. C. Evans; second vice president, A. F. Derner; captain, J. R. Zwefel; first lieutenant, H. Carroll; second lieutenant, O. Schneider; secretary and treasurer, Roy N. Hooper; directors, S. M. Limander, E. F. Blowers and G. E. Booth.

Arrangements have been concluded by which the use of the fair grounds is to be had by the club for the season. There will be a number of Saturday morning races and the first day of the fair will be given up to club racing. A committee from club has proposed a constitution a proposition from the Union rink. If the proposition is accepted the club will make the headquarters there, and a repair shop, dressing room and sauce-pairing track will be put in.

The annual road race will take place on Saturday, May 12, at the fair grounds, and the always successful feature will be more successful than ever this year in all probability. No details have yet been perfected, but the whole affair has been placed in the charge of F. E. Blowers, E. M. McLaughlin and E. S. Campau, with full powers to make all arrangements. A decoration that comes to Sunday, the 13th, the road race will have to be held either on Saturday or Monday. A choice of the two days has not yet been made.

The question of which national organization the club is to join has not yet been decided. In view of the late date but little discussion about it. At Tuesday night's meeting President J. H. Poteet was appointed to represent the club at the organization of the new body at Minneapolis next Monday.

The gymnastic managers of the Y. M. C. A. of Duluth have organized a bicycle club in connection with the gymnasium. The manager has been talked over for some weeks, but a definite conclusion was not reached until last night. The club is to be called the "Y. M. C. A. Bicyclists." The new club will have the advantages of baths, together with all that pertains to a year's membership in the association.

"I have gone up against a varied assortment of swindlers' games since I've been in the business," said the manager of a downtown bicycle agency to the New York Sun man, "but before I got into this line I was in the way of an installment house, and before that was in a Broadway hotel, and so I had my eye teeth cut, you may say. But I've unearthened a gentlemanly look, whose game is not to novel book sports, and he is absolutely the limit in wide acquaintance with bicycle swindlers.

"Each season for three years to my knowledge, he has sported a new machine, of standard make, with all the up-to-date accessories. At the end of the season he discards that which is worn, comes along with young, green, green-blossomed girls in the parks, and equally green and tender chumps like myself doing business in the picture line, the chap will be seen on another machine, the newest model, the most popular make, and with the latest trimmings. His season's riding doesn't cost him over $100 and his record for three years, if not longer,

"I tell you how he does it. In the first place, he has an honest profession, and a wide knowledge of the next place he is naturally a swindler. In the last place we bicycle dealers and agents will stand a great loss if we let him go. That we have lost a deal or a wheel."

The modus operandi of the gentlemanly bicycles have been dirt cheap for him is as follows: Several years ago at the beginning of the road season, he presented his card and his impressive personality at the down-town hotel for a well known make of bicycle.

"I don't want to waste time in poking over cheap articles," he said. "I want only the best and that quickly." Of course, the question was delighted. The professional man's eye lighted on a wheel that was one in a thousand, a wheel of a rifle barrel, he say. He examined it, and then paid in a few octavo to the make of tires and the saddle, just to show that he knew all about wheels and wheeling, and he wound up by saying carelessly:

"Ship to my home address and send the bill to my office. I shall expect to try the machine and test it to my satisfaction."

The salesmen, a trifle flustered, were to the point, and the referee was told to get a cash deposit of $200 two references and an agreement to pay so much a month on the price.

"I have been here but once in the salesmen, furnished the references, giving the names of two gentlemen well known on newspaper row, and in general, but he had only $100 to spend and presented no surety as a guarantee of good faith. His reference proved O. K. He got the wheel, and the first received was that soldier. $100 he had been here the first month to expire without sending in a statement. The next month, June, they respectively requested a payment on account. In August, September, ditto, the requests increased in business-like terms, but with no perceptible effect on the customer, who remained a roguish wheel for all he was worth. In October, the credit man complained to the head of the firm, and a peremptory notice was sent to the delinquent.

"The gentlemanly look had expected just such a denouement. He promptly ruled out, informing the firm that the Spanish word did not come up to representation, and that when it was removed it once from the premises he should be obliged to put it in store, and the price of the dealers.

"Each year since that time he has played the same game on some bicycle house which does business on the installment plan, but he is not ashamed of such contemptuous trickery, but he actually boasts of his success in getting a season's sport on a new standard wheel for little or nothing."

When asked how he detected the swindler, the bicycle dealer replied: "Well, you know that 'pride goeth luxury and used for pleasure exclusively—before the silent steed was adopted the general use of rapid transit, the general of affairs was quite different. The selfish way in which many of the wheelmen act at the present time is enough to give one an impression that they are hogs. They run the whole street or the whole road, and do not care to turn out for any other vehicle, nor will glide away from a vehicle, however, not much longer than they want to, but because they recognize that a collision would prove worse for the wheelman who has napped everything, and do not care to do so in the way of a lady, even though she be in no risk, they never have a kind word for anybody, and for a driver who will turn out on occasions, for they should always be granted, so long as it is granted. Their language is anything but good, and they are in keeping with their talk. Some people who do not ride judge all cyclists by these few, and every rider suffers in consequence."

An amateur who has an attractive way of expressing himself on the subject of cycling begins his talk in this manner: "Keep the beginner at a distance, but deal gently in remonstrance of the fact that you yourself were not the beginner when you first started. It is a matter of time, of a misfortune on the roads. It is a difficult matter properly to coach a novice rider, for he must have a reasonably wide knowledge of the distance and is never in a receptive mood. Occasionally he will get under the wayward influence of the middle of the road, and nothing that you can say will prevent him from pursuing a bee-line thereto."

The with now, and then goes on to say that in reality he needs only a strip of the road, when he will need only a strip of the road, when he will insist on clinging to the rear of which will be with him for a long time to come. The bicyclist must dismount or at least not ride, and he will stop in this way as will enable him to look up and down the track and listen.

The ease in which the decision was reached was an appeal from the court, and the court's decision was that the rider was guilty of contributory negligence in not coming to a standstill in time.

The contents of the appeal were that the bicyclist had circled on his wheel a few feet from the track looking out in this manner for approaching trains, and that this was a known trick of the wheelman as a "bicyclist's stop," and that the rider must find out for himself by practical experience almost everything which is possible.

The rider was a boy of 12, and he was quite as difficult to tell a leader how to swim. The boy was not strong, but he was swimming in good style, without being conscious of doing anything that he did not do when he aimlessly pawed the water around, and he was afraid it is about the same with mastering the bee-line.

EXCISEMENT AT NEW YORK.

New York, April 17.—The market is very dull, and the trade is not so active as it was in the morning. The shorts were combed out of the market from time to time. War news and foreign buying were the factors which caused the market to be so active. The latter was by far the heaviest seen here in a long time. The market was on the increase, and the price of wheat was on the increase. The market section day advanced 75c to 76c, and on the early curb 75c to 76c, and on the close, 76c to 77c. The market was at fever heat all day, and off at its widest point. Total sales were between $6,000,000 and $7,000,000.

Books From Washington.

The Duluth Historical and Scientific association received a wagon load of books this morning from Washington to add to its growing library.

It now has between 400 and 500 books.

With more coming, the books received this morning were government publications.

The books are of considerable value as reference books.

The efforts of Capt. J. W. Miller and Senator C. K. Davis the association has also secured about eighty navigation charts of various kinds.

DEPARTED

Two Boats Steamed Out of Duluth Harbor Early This Afternoon.

The Rees Goes to Washburn and the Stewart to Siskiwit Bay.

Others Are Ready to Leave—Wheat Charter at a Low Rate.

The stiff westerly breeze which has prevailed today may be somewhat annoying to landmen, but it has furthered the process of opening navigation at the port of Duluth greatly. To be sure, there was no great need of it, as the pathway along the north shore already opened up was sufficiently broad for all practical purposes, but there is no difference of opinion as to whether the lake will look better with the great field of dirty, mottled ice removed.

While no boats have yet arrived or are expected to arrive immediately, navigation on this part of Lake Superior is open. The steamer D. C. Rees went out this afternoon, bound for Washburn to load oats. While on board, was across the bay when she got alongside for shore, but was released by the singer tugs and proceeded on her way, leaving port at 12:30.

Capt. Con Flynn's R. G. Stewart was the second departure. She left at 2 o'clock in command of Capt. Flynn for Siskiwit bay with a load of supplies.

The steamer W. H. Campbell cleared today for Sandusky. She is ready to go out, and only awaits orders from her owners. She is loaded with ship's bread and flour.

The H. Camp also took out a clearance today for Washburn. She will probably go to Superior. She spends the season fishing at Ashland.

The first wheat charter reported in some time was made this morning. The rate quoted was 15 cents. Vesselmen have been holding out for 18 cents, with shippers bidding considerably lower figures, without being able to settle the matter.

It is an open question as to whether the market is strong or weak, and the market agents are not in agreement.

GOSSIP OF ★ THE STAGE.

The theater-going portion of the public will have an opportunity of judging of the merits of Martha Morton's new comedy, "A Fool of Fortune," on Easter Monday, when William H. Crane, the comedian, is to present it at the Lyceum theater. A good deal has been heard about this play of late and, according to those which have come from New York, which it had a run, and from Philadelphia and Boston, it is a work of much merit.

In the first two acts of the play Mr. Crane is seen as a breezy, jovial, nervy broker, who returns from England aping the manners of the English on account of the money he has made. He is, very much against his will, drawn into a hazardous speculation that calls for all of the money that he possesses. A trickster, who advises his friends to buy stock at a time that they are doing everything to get rid of the same stock, that they are buying on account of the fact that its value is falling, deceives him, plays him false, in the deal and he is made bankrupt, plunging his family into poverty. The last act shows the broker a puffed up, gloomy, broken in spirit, beginning to droop, but still in the clutches of the speculator. At last he regards his fortune and rescues his family to a certain extent, but the excitement of his戏剧性 success kills him. Among the characters besides the broker's wife and two daughters are an American stock operator in stocks, a French count, original characteristics, a country friend, an honest broker and the stock gambler who, in spite of fortune, give the play its title.

Mr. Crane will, of course, be seen as the broker who goes from affluence to poverty, but his popularity of the man is said to be in the right direction, and he is decided breaking away from the beaten path of ordinary impersonation. The actress who takes up the role is Gwendolyn Fleming. The play is named "The Man and His Wife" and the New York critics are agreed in a general sense that it is to be adulated and commended, distinguishing its tortuous steps by beauty of speech, the tenacity with which it clings to the tickler waiting and hoping for the news are not without a pathetic side.

Among those who will be seen in the presentations are Miss Eddy Shannon, Edna Purviance, Betty Putnam, Percy Brooke, William Boote, George F. De Vere and Miss Dallas Tyler.

NAT GOODWINE.

Those who have attended an Italian confetti fest can hardly from mere description realize the beauties of such a play. The gayly-dressed revellers, with their masks, feathers, flowers, bonbons, etc., pass to and fro pelting each other with the utmost vigor and glee, in which rivals any affair of the kind known to the world. Such a scene has the author of Nat C. Goodwin's new play, "An American Girl," effectively reproduced in the third act of the piece. The plot of the play brings the various characters across the water from New York at a point of time later to the opening of the act. They have come, Nellie, the maid of Rip and his old age, Inebriety cannot be far away from the French mind, and old age is the end of all. The poetry and pathos of the affair are shown by a spirit of the comic, which is a sure sign of a good play. "An American Girl" is a good play, and it will be well to see it.

From a recently published biographical sketch of Oiga Brandon it is learned that she was born in Australia, date not given, and that she was a singer. Her real name is Oiga Nazarowski. It is fifteen years since she was called the girl with the midnight eyes, and she is now playing leading parts of the matronly order with S. Ward, the best actor of a certain line of characters that England ever exported.

Henry Clay Barnes, of the Bostonians, has a great admirer in the person of Pol Plancon, the grand opera singer. While in Chicago recently Plancon was anxious to see the results of the comedian's prediction for Kentucky whisky instead of imported liquor. In the interests of the native American, Barnes, a man of much wit and drink, "Bourbon today" is the term was applied to the man who puts queries to thirsty guests. Pol Plancon is more disposed to drink plain vermouth to brandy. His curiosities finally overcame his natural politeness, and he asked: "My dear Signor Barnes, what is the gayest drink in the world?" "why-a you always drink the best, bonhomia today—what can you call me?" "My dear Signor Barnes, you know my name is Henry Clay Barnes, I am named after the great comedian, Mr. Henry Clay, who came from Bourbon county, Ky., where the best whisky in the world is made. At the present time I have no house all the year round and have no guests but friends and a drink which he commands himself." He called it a home to take a little time from the stage to a New York manager for approval. He wrote and had read and received word that the manager was satisfied with the play and would at once take measures to produce it. The poet was highly pleased and received admiring work and assurred of an early presentation. The time passed and nothing was heard of a new play, "The Alchemist," which is to be tried in Birmingham, England.

Playwright Pinero will furnish the book of a new opera, the music of which has been supplied by Sir Arthur Sullivan.
